

Special interest groups, including banks, should not be able to weaken our no-call law.